Your Submission to the TPC Review: The fast track proposal is simply not democratic. On issues where the public may be influenced, they need to have a full voice and this will not be so under the fast track policy. The winners will be the super-wealthy and the losers will be the general public at large. All developments in the state need to be fully discussed by everybody, so that a fair democratic process is followed. In summary the TPC must continue to act as it does in Tasmanian Planning and should not be influenced by government or ministers and should have its role expanded in related issues and it should be funded accordingly
