Name: Carol Febey

Your Submission to the TPC Review: I hereby offer my submitted contribution to the review of the Tasmanian Planning Commission.

I and my family care very much about the great importance of protecting our State's natural environment, our most valuable heritage for ourselves, our children and theirs. We notice through the years much eroding of our State's natural environment's quality and quantity. We therefore really want there to be stronger and more independent responsibility for our present Planning Commission to do its job well for us and our beautiful island, by being better funded to support its proper expert advice, and utterly keep its independence from our governments of the day, so we can respect our processes and feel fairly and properly heard, and so that governments, or just one Minister of a government, definitely cannot have biased and improper power from heeding greedy people or companies. We feel this is of the utmost importance for our island, to keep our real pride and sense of fairness in the system, and trust.
