Please give full attention to the protection of community interests and the maintenance of ecological processes with particular attention to biodiversity. This is a time of great opportunity for the furtherance of these policies... building a strong sustainable base has never been more needed. There are big changes coming... let's meet them with wisdom, conviction and truly creative and innovative effort. This glorious little island can be a beacon of hope to the rest of the world. Let's get on with it!

Go well,
Ann Cole
