Name: Stephanie McQueen

Your Submission to the TPC Review: It is very important that the TPC be a strong, independent authority with broad powers to review, monitor, amend and revise the Tasmanian Planning Scheme as required. Having an independent authority, free from Ministerial interference is vital for the integrity of governance and confidence of the Tasmanian people. Further it should be appropriately funded and have the powers to oversee the Tasmanian planning system in every respect including developing policy and strategy for regional and state development as well as assess and monitor projects of State and regional significance. The Tasmanian community needs to be able to confidently express views on projects with the knowledge that an independent authority is assessing them, with no political motives
