1. Statement of Purpose

The purpose of the classification and placement system is to determine prisoners' security requirements and ensure they are accommodated appropriately.

Classification is the process of placing prisoners on different security categories in accordance with their individually assessed risks.

Prisoners should be accommodated in the least restrictive environment possible in order to maximise rehabilitation.

This Director's Standing Order provides guidelines for the classification of prisoners in accordance with their security risk, both upon reception, and at regular intervals throughout their time in custody.

2. Desired Outcome

The classification and placement system has as its main priority the safety of staff, prisoners and the community.

Classification decisions are based on an objective assessment of the individual's risks and take into account their age and character, length of sentence, nature of their offence, risk to the community, risk of escape, their behaviour in custody and other relevant factors (where applicable).

Prisoners are accommodated at the lowest level of security appropriate to their circumstances to maximise opportunities for rehabilitation.

The principles of natural justice and procedural fairness are applied in all decision-making.

Information regarding the classification and placement system is communicated to prisoners in a way they can understand, ensuring that culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) prisoners, for whom English is not their first language, are appropriately informed.

3. Scope

This Standing Order does not apply to Watch-House Detainees (refer Standing Order 1.35).

8. Procedures

8.1. Security categories

8.1.1. In accordance with the Corrections Regulations (2008) the Tasmania Prison Service uses a three tiered classification system comprising the following security categories:

- Maximum
- Medium
- Minimum

8.1.2. Prisoners may only be accommodated at a prison or unit with a security category equivalent to or higher than their individual security category. Each prison and / or unit is assigned a security category consistent with the security features and operating regime of the facility (refer to Figure 1).

Prison Facility	Unit	Security Category
Ron Barwick Minimum Security Prison including the O'Hara Units	Main Facility	Minimum
Mary Hutchinson Women's Prison	Wellington Hartz Hartz Roland	Maximum Medium Minimum Minimum
State-wide Reception Prisons (LRP / HRP)	N/A	Maximum
Risdon Prison Complex (Maximum)	Apsley (formerly Tamar and Franklin) Huon Mersey / CSU Derwent	Maximum
Risdon Prison Complex (Medium)	Barrington Rosebury Sorell Gordon Kara Rowallan Burbury	Medium

- 8.1.3. Minimum-security prisoners (sentenced) may be accommodated within a secure perimeter or, subject to a satisfactory risk assessment, in the O'Hara Units, and do not require controlled movement within the prison.
- 8.1.4. Minimum-security prisoners (sentenced) may work and participate in activities outside the prison, subject to a satisfactory risk assessment, under the supervision of a custodian or on their own recognisance.
- 8.1.5. When determining or varying a prisoner's security category, regulation 5 of the Corrections Regulations (2008) states that specific criteria must be taken into account. Those criterion are as follows:
  - Age and character
  - Length of sentence (not applicable to detainees)
  - Nature of offence
  - Behaviour during current, and any previous, period of imprisonment
  - Escape history
  - Any other relevant factor – which may include physical or sexual abuse, marital status, substance abuse etc.

Additional factors, which must also be considered:

- The safe and secure custody of the prisoner and other prisoners at the facility
  - The safety of staff and visitors to the prison
  - The good order of the facility
  - The safety of the community
  - Opportunities for rehabilitation and reintegration
  - Any extenuating circumstances that may affect the prisoner's security category or placement within the prison system
- 8.1.6. The classification process will assess the above criteria and any other objective factors available at the time of assessment to determine the least restrictive placement of prisoners in line with the assessed security risk.

8.2. Initial classification

- 8.2.1. In order to determine the prisoners' initial security category a trained correctional officer will administer the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating Tool. The Tier 1 Initial Security Rating Tool can be found in the 'Standard Letters' tab on the CIS.
- 8.2.2. All prisoners are to be assigned a maximum-security category until the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool has been administered.
- 8.2.3. Prisoners must be assessed using the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool and assigned a security category within two business days of being received into custody.
- 8.2.4. If insufficient information is available to complete the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool, the assessment may be deferred for a set period of time (no longer than 7 days) to enable the relevant information to be obtained. In the interim, the prisoner must be assigned a maximum-security category and be accommodated accordingly.
- 8.2.5. In administering the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool, correctional officers must collate and consider the following factors:
  - Severity of charge or offence
  - Severity of prior criminal convictions
  - Escape or attempted escape history within the past 10 years
  - Summary of violence from previous periods of imprisonment
  - Prior 'serious' convictions

- Drug / alcohol history
  - Stability factors at time of arrest (education, employment etc.)
  - Age
  - SASH assessments and information relating to the prisoners' physical and mental health needs
- 8.2.6. The Correctional Officer administering the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool must check the 'Protective Orders and Prohibited Contacts List' provided by central records and the CRIMES database to ascertain if the prisoner has any active Family Violence Orders, restraint orders and outstanding charges.
- 8.2.7. All outstanding charges on which a body warrant or remand order has been issued are to be assessed for classification purposes using the Tier 1 Offence Severity Scale.
- 8.2.8. In some cases, extenuating circumstances may warrant overriding a prisoner scored security category determined by the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool. Such circumstances may include:
- Outstanding charges on which a body warrant or remand order has been issued
  - Protection issues
  - Age or vulnerability issues
  - Physical or mental health
  - Known disabilities
  - Restraint Orders or Family Violence Orders
  - Intelligence provided by the Head of Intelligence Unit
  - Other factors (refer to overrides in the Tier 1 Initial Security Rating tool)
- Staff will need to use their discretion when considering overriding an assessed security category. The decision to override a security category must be reasonable, justifiable and fully documented.
- 8.2.9. All Tier 1 initial security-rating assessments are to be endorsed through CIS by a correctional supervisor within 48 hours of completion. Until the assessment has been endorsed, the prisoner is to retain a maximum-security category. If the supervisor does not support the recommendation, they must provide an alternative recommendation and rationale.
- 8.2.10. Any decision to override the scored security category to minimum requires the Superintendent of Statewide Reception Prisons authorisation.
- 8.2.11. If additional information becomes available after the reception process that may have affected the outcome of the Tier 1 Security Rating tool, a correctional supervisor (not involved in the original assessment) may initiate an Initial Classification Amendment. This requires the endorsement of the Chair, Sentence Management Review Panel and must be initiated within 10 business days of the prisoner coming into custody.
- 8.2.12. Prisoners who have been on remand for less than six months who are subsequently sentenced and returned to TPS custody, must undergo a Post-Sentence Review of Classification by a Correctional Supervisor from the facility they are returned to post – sentencing.

8.3. Sentence Management Review

- 8.3.1. The role of the Sentence Management Review Panel is to review the security categories and accommodation of all prisoners within the prison system, including those with a Dangerous Criminal status. Reviews must occur at least once within a six-month period, or in any of the circumstances outlined in Figure 2.

The transferring facility is responsible for initiating this review and must notify the Classification Secretary so the agenda can be updated. This provision does not apply to movements between the Risdon Prison Complex medium security precinct and the Derwent units.
- 8.3.3. Discretionary Reviews - An application for a Discretionary review must be initiated by a prisoner's case officer in consultation with the Correctional Supervisor and endorsed by the Superintendent of the area where the prisoner is being accommodated. Staff initiating the review must complete all content fields contained in the 'Discretionary Review' section of the Sentence Management Report. On completion of this section the form must be forwarded via email to Community.Protection@justice.tas.gov.au
- A discretionary review must not commence without the prior consultation and approval of the Chair of the Sentence Management Review Panel. Discretionary reviews will only be considered where there has been a significant change to a prisoner's circumstances as outlined in 8.3.11 and these changes are reflected in the application for review. If approved the Discretionary Review will be scheduled as soon as is practically possible for the Panel to consider.
- 8.3.4. The panel must meet as often as necessary to meet the above requirements.
- 8.3.5. The Classification Secretary will schedule sentence management review dates for all prisoners following their reception into custody. Additionally, they will make necessary adjustments on receipt of any subsequent sentence warrants or remand orders.

- 8.3.14. The Sentence Management Review Panel will defer the review process where all relevant information required is not provided.
- 8.3.15. Prisoners will not be routinely interviewed by the Sentence Management Review Panel, however interviews may be conducted at the discretion of the panel.
